- I understand that this is a piece of individual coursework. I confirm that:

- The solutions are my own work. I have not collaborated with other students or anyone else in coming up with the solutions.
- I have not discussed any details of this solution to the coursework with other students or anyone else.
    - Discussions of general concepts related to the coursework are fine, but not any details relating to specific coursework questions. For example - studying the notes or slides of lectures relating to the module together is acceptable, but talking about the homework questions is not.
- I have not shown any parts of my solution to other students or anyone else.
- I have not looked at the solutions written by any other students or by anyone else.
- I have appropriately cited any references (Internet, books, source code etc.) that I have used to produce my solutions or any parts of them.

The penalties for plagiarism are serious – the MSc and BSc course Handbook s and the Department's "For Campus" site contain further details. I am aware that any violation of the above would constitute plagiarism and carry serious penalties.
